Dear Reader:

Volume 40, Issue 1 features a note about Colorado's Collateral Source Doctrine and an article about bus transportation in Panama City, Panama. We at the TLJ are excited to publish this issue addressing domestic and international issues.

Mr. Bunker's article discusses first and third party insurance coverage in the context of personal injury claims, including the effects of subrogation clauses in first party insurance contracts on recovery of damages. This is a new and evolving topic in Colorado which will likely be affected by the new legislature.

Mr. Smith's article addresses the reorganization of the Panama City transportation system, which includes the construction of a metro line and modernization of the city's bus network. As many countries in the world face the same challenges of modernizing transportation systems, this article's analysis has implications far outside Panama.

The Transportation Law Journal has changed its publication schedule, and will now publish two issues per year, one in the spring and one in the fall. We hope you enjoy this issue of the Transportation Law Journal. Please contact our staff if you have an article you would like considered for publication.

Sincerely,

Jenna Bechtholdt
