Dear Subscriber:

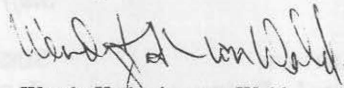

As my tenure in the position of Editor-in-Chief closes, I would like to thank each and every one of our subscribers and authors for their continued support of the Journal. Our publication year 1995-96 was successful in all respects, largely due to your continued support. On behalf of the 1995-96 staff and Board members, I thank you for your interest in our publication.

The upcoming year presents the Journal with the unique opportunity to publish under the leadership of Samuel Scinta. Sam, the 1996-97 Editor-in-Chief comes to this position with new ideas, and a great deal of experience in the publishing world. I am confident that your expectations of the Journal will be achieved, and possibly even exceeded, during the course of the upcoming year.

The Journal is sponsored by the Transportation Lawyers Association, the largest bar association of its kind. Their support has been an invaluable part of the Journal's success. We are also provided support through the American Association of Airport Executive's legal membership. The Journal encourages each of you to become involved in these organizations.

Again, thank you for your interest in the Journal.

Sincerely,

Wendy Katherine von Wald

UNIVERSITY of DENVER

College of Law
Transportation Law Journal

Dear Subscriber,

As the new Editor-in-Chief of the Transportation Law, I have had the luck to work on this first issue of volume 24, an exciting and diverse issue in which airline bankruptcies, the economics of taxicabs, and airline safety are explored. Although this is an exciting time for me and the new staff, we must regrettably say good-bye to the old staff. During the past year, I have had the opportunity, both as a staff member and as an associate editor, to work with and learn from the 1995-96 TLJ Editorial Board. On behalf of the 1996-97 Editorial Board, I would like to thank Wendy and the rest of the staff for all of their guidance and contributions, including the increasing exposure of the TLJ on the World Wide Web, to the journal.

As we move toward a new century and a new millennium, surrounded by great changes and exciting possibilities, transportation issues continue to stand at the center of our society. Within this dynamic environment, the Transportation Law Journal embarks upon a new year, filled with ambition and hope. As the great Disraeli said, "[t]he secret of success is constancy to purpose." At the TLJ, we are committed to the purpose of bringing the transportation law community the best in articles, book reviews, and case summaries. Over the next year, we hope to fulfill Disraeli's credo, striving to make a great journal even better.

Beginning with this issue, case name and topic indices for the previous volume will be contained in the summer issue of the journal. Starting this fall, the TLJ plans to include regular book reviews, along with case notes, in every issue. Also this fall, we are planning a symposium issue devoted to airline safety. By the spring of 1997, most of the journal's archived articles will be available in encapsulated form at our web site. These are only some of the changes anticipated for this year. We will keep you updated on other developments in future issues.

Without the support of subscribers, a journal is simply a collection of bound articles existing in a vacuum. Thus, I wish to thank you for your continued support and encourage all of you to please write me, either at the below address, or at our e-mail address, with your comments.

I look forward to sharing a successful year with you.

Sincerely,

Samuel S. Scinta
Editor-in-Chief
