INSIDE

As you have most likely noticed by now, this year's Symposium issue has quite an exciting, new look. We decided to revive our "magazine" format - something first tried approximately thirty years ago. Our goal with this issue is to present interesting and informative articles, in a reader-friendly format, on a timely subject: privacy. In the wake of the largest terrorist attack on American soil, and with war looming, privacy concerns abound.

We chose writers from diverse backgrounds: attorneys, a bookstore owner, a privacy activist, and a former governor, just to name a few. You may not agree with everything they have to say, but we think you will find their articles thought provoking and timely. I want to thank each author for writing a superb article - and also thank each author for their patience. The magazine issue took a little longer than our usual law review issues, but we think you will agree that it is well worth the wait.

We hope you enjoy this new format and the articles within.

Sincerely,

Tanya L. Thiessen
Symposium Editor
