Traveling through a Braided Channel

Bring together water birds and judges have them settle into Jackson Hole in the great WYO

For the purpose of understanding how the West's habitat backbone transfigured by the jagged Tetons is formed of adjoining watersheds

Call to order voices of community you will hear—
 do you hear?
 strings, chords, synchronicity—

Every tributary has a source makes a contribution travels through a braided channel no island can be without surrounding waters shifting its shaping potential.

The Divided West
 a series of islands composes the mainland West west of the 100th Meridian

We the citizens of the West a unique part of a unique world
 of a unique universe.

THE BLANK PAGE

Line your colors up then begin—
 paper rises up to meet your reflections—let blend the bolds of your conception

Watercourses
 will always bend you to directions never intended.
