BOOKS RECEIVED

CASES ON CRIMINAL LAW. By J. W. Cecil Turner and A. LL. Armitage. New York: Cambridge University Press. 1964. xiv + 664 pages. Cloth: $12.00. Paper: $4.95. The third edition of a well established English casebook, this is the first of the new Cambridge Legal Case Book series.

CRIME AND PERSONALITY. By H. J. Eysenck. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Co. 1964. xv + 204 pages. $4.50. A psychologist's look at criminal behavior with emphasis on heredity and conditioning as major causative factors. The author cites numerous experiments in suggesting some causes and cures for delinquent individuals.

DISINHERITED AND THE LAW, THE. By Dagobert D. Runes. New York: Philosophical Library. 1964. vii + 79 pages. $3.00. The author demonstrates that the law is not a symbol of justice, but rather an expression of the wishes and desires of those in dominance.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE, THE. By Lucius Wilmerding, Jr. Boston: Beacon Press. 1964. xiii + 224 pages. $1.95. The author considers the difficulties inherent in the existing method of electing a President and examines three current proposals for its reform: the district system, national plebiscite, and proportional voting.

HOW HIGH IS UP. By David Loth and Morris L. Ernst. Indianapolis: Bobbs-Merrill Co. 1964. 276 pages. $4.50. A book seeking to explain to laymen how legal concepts are adapted by courts to accommodate progress in society.

LAWYERS IN POLITICS. By Heinz Eulau and John D. Sprague. Indianapolis: Bobbs-Merrill Co. 1964. 164 pages. $5.00. A study in professional convergence.

MANAGING THE LAW OFFICE. Daniel J. Cantor, Editor. Mundelein, Ill.: Callaghan and Co. 1964. xii + 296 pages. $18.50. A collection of essays on law office economics and management.

NEW MEANING OF TREASON, THE. By Rebecca West. New York: The Viking Press. 1964. viii + 374 pages. $6.95. The author has revised and expanded her classic work on traitors and defectors of World War II to include cases from the 1950s and 1960s.

PUBLIC AND ITS GOVERNMENT, THE. By Felix Frankfurter. Boston: Beacon Press. 1964. 170 pages. $1.95. A new edition of Mr. Justice Frankfurter's small work, written in 1930, expressing his views on the responsibilities of citizenship and the relationships between law, government, and society.

RIGHT OF ESTABLISHMENT IN THE COMMON MARKET, THE. By Ulrich Everling. Chicago: Commerce Clearing House. 1964. xv + 219 pages. $15.00. A comprehensive description of the right of establishment in the European Economic Community presented against the background of current political, legal, and economic conditions.

TREASURY OF LAW. Richard W. Nice, Editor. New York: Philosophical Library. 1964. xii + 553 pages. $10.00. A representative assemblage of many of the meaningful and significant documents that, throughout history, have contributed to man's determination to govern his conduct in inter-personal and international affairs.
