

July 2021

Our Returning Lawyer-Veterans

Dicta Editorial Board

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.du.edu/dlr>

Recommended Citation

Our Returning Lawyer-Veterans, 22 Dicta 254 (1945).

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Denver Law Review at Digital Commons @ DU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Denver Law Review by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ DU. For more information, please contact jennifer.cox@du.edu, dig-commons@du.edu.

Our Returning Lawyer-Veterans

Paul E. Goldsmith, first lieutenant, air corps, served from February, 1943, to September, 1945, with the 15th A. A. F. in Italy and the European theater. He has received the air medal with three oak leaf clusters, the E. T. O. ribbons with three stars, and the distinguished unit citation. He is now practicing in his own office at 705 E. 8 C. Bldg., Denver. He is a graduate of Denver University (A.B., 1941; LL.B., 1943) and was admitted to practice in 1943.

Karl C. Brauns, lieutenant commander, U. S. N. R., served from June, 1942, to September, 1945, in the Pacific theater. At the time of his retirement from service he was executive officer of the Naval Air Control Center at San Diego. He has resumed his work as a member of the Board of Water Commissioners, and has resumed his private practice at 604 Equitable Bldg., Denver, Main 2261.

Leon Ginsberg, sergeant, army medical department, served from April, 1944, to September, 1945, at Camp Barkeley, Texas, and Camp Carson, Colorado. He has resigned his position as assistant city attorney of Denver, and is associated with his brother, Victor, at 1011 Midland Savings Bldg., Denver.

E. Ellison Hatfield, major, army air corps, served from September, 1942, to September, 1945, in the Pacific Ocean areas. He was admitted to practice in 1932, and has had ten years general practice. He has an LL.B. from Missouri University (1930) and an LL.M. from Colorado University (1931). He is now in private practice in the McCloskey Bldg., Durango, but might consider association with or membership in a firm in a larger city.

Raphael J. Moses, lieutenant, U. S. N. R., served from September, 1942, to October, 1945, in the American and Pacific areas. He has returned to private practice in Alamosa, where he was associated, before entering service, with his late uncle. He was formerly chairman of the Junior Bar Section of the Colorado Bar Association.

Victor Arthur Miller, major, Army of the United States, assigned to the air corps. Served for three years. Was commander of the 784th Technical Squadron, Lincoln Air Base, during 1942 and 1943, during which time he had 10,000 men under his command at one time or another, many of whom made fine records in all theaters of operation. He was also assistant executive at Lowry Field during the early days of the war, and was also S3 plans and training officer at Lincoln Air Base in 1942. In 1943 went to Eastern district of the air corps as a pioneer in renegotiation of war contracts and set up the review for the district commander bearing on more than a billion dollars of government money in that district. He was a veteran of the first World War, and started in this war, as a captain in the air corps. At present he is devoting most of his time to personal matters, officing at 801 Cooper Bldg., Denver. He was admitted to the Colorado bar in 1922. He has an A.B. from Yale (1919) and an LL.B. from Denver University (1922). He expects to be able to resume active law practice at an early date.

Ralph Loeb, captain, air corps, served from March, 1942, to September, 1945, as legal officer, Second Air Force. At present he resides at 2021 Marion St., but is looking for office space, which is very hard to find, or a connection with a firm. He was admitted to practice in 1937, and engaged in general practice from 1937 to 1942. He has an A.B. and an LL.B. from Denver University.

Joseph G. Hodges, major, air corps, served from June, 1942, to September, 1945, in the continental United States. Received letter of commendation from the commanding general, procurement division, air technical service command. He has returned to his partnership in the firm of Hodges, Vidal and Goree, with offices in the Equitable Bldg., Denver.

Robert A. Theobald, flight officer, air corps, air transport command, served from July, 1942, to October, 1945, in the American and Pacific theaters. He is trying to find office space, preferably in a suite arrangement. His phone is Emerson 5478. He was admitted to practice in September, 1938, and was engaged in general practice from 1938 to 1942. He has an A.B. from Denver University (1935) and an LL.B. (1938).

Charles A. Baer, major, air corps, served from August, 1942, to October, 1945, in United States and with Eighth Air Force in England. He has returned to his position as assistant trust officer of the Colorado National Bank, Denver. He was admitted to practice in 1939.

Merrill A. Knight, lieutenant, U. S. N. R., served from October, 1943, to October, 1945, principally at Naval Air Station, Terminal Island, San Pedro, California. He has returned to practice as a partner in the firm of Schaetzle and Knight, 322 Colorado National Bank Bldg., Denver.

Harry S. Silverstein, Jr., lieutenant, U. S. N. R., served from November, 1942, to October, 1945, in Alaska, South Pacific, India, South Atlantic and Mediterranean areas. (Pete has seen the world.) After this world tour, he has returned to practice as a member of the firm of Silverstein & Silverstein, 922 Equitable Bldg., Denver.

William V. Hodges, Jr., lieutenant commander, U. S. N. R., served from February, 1942, to September, 1945 in the United States, Trinidad B. W. I., North Africa, and Naval War College. He has the American and European theater ribbons. He has returned to practice as a partner in the firm of Hodges, Vidal and Goree, with offices in the Equitable Bldg., Denver.

Albert B. Logan, private first class, U. S. Marine Corps, served from April, 1944, to October, 1945, in the continental United States as classification specialist and publications man. He has now returned to practice in the Independence Bldg., Colorado Springs. Before entering the marine corps he practiced law for twelve years in Colorado Springs. He has an A.B. (1930) and an LL.B. (1932) from Colorado University.

Ranger Rogers, lieutenant, U. S. C. G. (R), served from February, 1942, to October, 1945, in the American, European, Asiatic-Pacific theaters and the Philippine Islands. He has not yet made definite plans for re-entering the practice and is investigating various possibilities in this connection. He was admitted to the Colorado bar in 1938, and had a varied practice before entering the navy. At the time of his enlistment in 1942 he was Assistant Attorney General of Colorado. He has an A.B. from Colorado University (1934), an LL.B. from Colorado University (1937), and took graduate work at Yale University in law from 1937 to 1938.

Personals

Ralph L. Carr, president of the Denver Bar Association, has been appointed regent of the University of Colorado by Governor John C. Vivian to fill the vacancy created by the death of Norman W. Baker.

Lt. Col. Eugene A. Bond, Leadville, presided over the first American general military court in Berlin. He is with the legal section of military government of U. S. headquarters, Berlin district. He entered service in 1942 and was sent to the European theater in June, 1944, and is a veteran of the first World War. He holds four battle stars, and entered Berlin with the first elements of the American forces.

Charles H. Groves, Denver, has been appointed by Governor Vivian as employer representative on the advisory council of the State Department of Employment Security for a term expiring July 31, 1949.

Albert E. Zarlengo, formerly referee for the Industrial Commission, has become associated with Edgar McComb and Godfrey Nordmark under the firm name of McComb, Nordmark and Zarlengo, with offices in the First National Bank Bldg., Denver.

Donald T. Horn has returned to his private practice in Lamar after having served as project attorney, W. R. A., at Amache.

Mark H. Harrington, Denver, has been re-elected president of the Denver Tuberculosis Society.

Edward V. Dunklee, Denver, has been named to the board of managers of Colorado Woman's College. He has served 15 years as a general trustee of the college.

Stewart A. Shafer has returned to private practice in Denver after having been with the ordnance department of the war department in Philadelphia. He is at present officing with J. D. Pender in the University Building.

E. Ray Campbell, Denver, was presented an alumni recognition medal by Judge Henry S. Lindsley in recognition of his outstanding service to the University of Colorado during his twelve years as a regent, in the university's building program and management of loan and endowment funds.

Lt. Col. Charles C. Young, Denver, has been detailed to review and pass along to Gen. Douglas MacArthur the findings of the military court which will try Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita on war criminal charges. Col. Young is judge advocate of the First Cavalry Division and took a leading part in the liberation of the Philippines. He has been on active duty since August, 1940.

Floyd Walpole, Denver, was re-elected to the board of trustees of the Civic Symphony Society. Wilbur Denious has retired as president.

Benjamin E. Sweet, Denver, has been elected president of the Denver Public Library Commission, succeeding James H. Pershing, who has been president since 1938.

Charles R. Corlett, Monte Vista, has been promoted to the rank of major in the marine corps. Major Corlett has been overseas thirteen months, and was recently named group mess officer for the Second Marine Air Wing, after having served as adjutant and legal officer for the unit.

Al Rockett, Denver, formerly with the State Industrial Commission, has been appointed director of the State Planning Commission. He is a graduate of Colorado College and Denver University Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1934.

Dudley W. Strickland, Jr., has been promoted to captain. He is now in Okinawa with the 346th Bomb Group as chief photographic officer.

W. W. Grant, Denver, has been elected chancellor of the Episcopal Diocese of Colorado. Hugh McLean, Denver, is treasurer. Dan Wolfe, Denver, and William R. Kelly, Greeley, were named lay members of the standing committee. Richard Downing was elected to the ecclesiastical court and Harry Peterson, Pueblo, to the court of appeals.

Lt. Col. Stanford W. Gregory, who served four years overseas in the European theater, is home on leave. Col. Gregory entered the air corps in 1941 and participated in the North African campaign, in Tunisia, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany.

Lt. Col. Robert D. Charlton, Denver, and Lt. Stuart B. St. Germain, Denver, are among the officers of the 168th Field Artillery battalion now being deactivated. The 168th Field Artillery was first established as a field artillery unit of the Colorado National Guard. It was called to federal service in February, 1941, and served with the Sixth Army in the Pacific. It was stationed in Australia, then moved to New Guinea and landed on Luzon on D day. It rendered distinguished service.

Among the practicing attorneys of Denver who will serve as part-time faculty members of Denver University Law School this year are: R. Hickman Walker, Frederick P. Cranston, Louis A. Hellerstein, Edwin Sears, Golding Fairfield, Benjamin Griffith, L. Ward Bannister, Cecil M. Draper and Edward H. Sherman. Judge J. Foster Symes will also be a part-time instructor.

James N. Sabin has resigned as Assistant Attorney General and has been appointed Deputy District Attorney by District Attorney James T. Burke, to fill a vacancy created by the illness of Frank Wachob.

The Jealous Mistress†

BY M. EUGENE CULVER*

In West Publishing Company's "Docket" of October, 1926, under the title, "The Law Is a Jealous Mistress," appeared the statement that a Colorado bar association had issued a publication called "The Jealous Mistress" and had asked for the origin of the phrase. The editor said he could not tell the author and, having nothing better to do, I started to hunt for it.

I found that in Case and Comment published by the Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company in November and December, 1925, there was an address given by the Hon. Homer Cummings before the Kentucky State Bar Association, July 1, 1925, entitled "Contact with Life Through the Law." In this address Mr. Cummings said, "The law," as Blackstone long ago said, 'is a jealous mistress.'" Another lawyer, addressing a bar association in St. Louis, said, "An obscure lawyer on a forgotten occasion said, 'The law is a jealous mistress'."

I commenced to search and found that Sharswood, in a memoir of Sir William Blackstone, published in his edition of Blackstone's Commentaries in 1860, said: "It is not uncommon to hear the expression, 'The law is a jealous mistress'." That seemed to dispose of the idea that Blackstone himself originated the expression. I therefore looked in Coke and in Broome's Legal Maxims, but did not find it. I suddenly had what †Reprinted by permission from the Connecticut Bar Journal.

*President of the Middlesex County (Conn.) Bar Association.