Transportation Pool for State Bar Convention is Planned

In an effort to prevent waste of tires and gasoline and to discourage train travel, the Colorado Bar Association has requested that lawyers going to the convention at the Broadmoor Hotel on September 17 and 18 communicate with the member of the legal assistance committee in their area. Each lawyer who is planning to go to the convention is requested to communicate with such members and advise whether passenger space will be available. Unless there is no other form of transportation available, lawyers are urged not to ride the trains to and from the convention.

Justice Rutledge and W. F. Lilleston Principal Speakers

Mr. Justice Wiley B. Rutledge of the United States Supreme Court will be the Friday evening speaker at the state bar convention, to be held on September 17 and 18, 1943, according to an announcement made by Edward L. Wood, president of the state bar. Mr. Justice Rutledge is well known to Colorado lawyers, having been on the faculty of the law school at the University of Colorado, and having frequented favorite fishing haunts in Colorado for many summers.

"In addition to Justice Rutledge, the Colorado Bar Association is very fortunate in securing the consent of W. F. Lilleston of Wichita, Kansas, to act as our banquet speaker," Mr. Wood states. "Mr. Lilleston is one of the outstanding after-dinner speakers in the country. His witty address at the annual banquet of the American Bar Association convention at San Francisco was one of the outstanding features of that meeting. It will long be remembered by all who heard it."

Mr. Lilleston is a member of the law firm of which the late Earle W. Evans, a past president of the American Bar Association, was a partner. Formerly a president of the Wichita Bar Association, Mr. Lilleston has been active in bar matters for many years.

Joseph W. Henderson, sole nominee for the presidency of the American Bar Association, has also indicated that he will be present at the convention as a representative of the national group if he is elected at the A. B. A. August meeting. Major Milton Blake, chief Legal Assistance Officer, J. A. G. D., will return to Colorado to deliver a short address on the legal assistance program for soldiers. This address will be followed by a round table discussion of problems engendered by War Department Circular 74.

The major outlines of the Colorado Bar meeting have been completed, according to Ben E. Sweet of Denver, chairman of the convention committee. The tentative plans call for a symposium on Friday afternoon relative to problems concerning title to property caused by war legislation and directives. Among problems to be discussed are the effect of war orders upon leases, alien property custodian's orders affecting estates, and the effect of the civil relief acts.

Saturday afternoon's session will feature a skit which will show some of the more unusual features of the Model Code of Evidence. The skit will portray some contrasting incidents of present methods of proof and of proposed methods, and a lively and entertaining afternoon is promised by Robert E. More of Denver, skit chairman.

Saturday morning sessions will be devoted to the various section meetings. The water section will proceed to discuss the proposed water organization code, and the real estate, probate and trust section will consider further legislation dealing with probate and trust law. Meetings of the District Attorneys' Association, the District Judges' Association and the County Judges' Association will likewise be held that morning.

At Friday's luncheon the Law Club of Denver will again entertain. Other entertainment items include provisions for golf and swimming at the Broadmoor, and a cocktail party on Saturday evening given by the hotel. A program for the ladies will be announced next month.

Since hotel space will be more restricted this year, lawyers are requested to write for reservations as soon as possible.

Best Wishes to the
