Report of Dicta Committee on Supreme Court Decisions

the members of the Bar had not eagerly devoured every item in each issue hitherto published. Perish the thought!

In closing, we wish to state that we have not yet been sued for libel—which is more of a tribute to our editorial restraint than the reader may at first believe.

Respectfully,

REPORT OF DICTA COMMITTEE ON SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Your committee on digesting Supreme Court Decisions has been working in perfect harmony during the past year and it has endeavored to faithfully digest the Supreme Court Decisions and to print them in Dicta just as soon as they could be printed after the Decision became final.

On account of the great necessity of condensing the Decision, it has been almost impossible to make a complete statement of either the facts or the law, but in the plan that we have adopted we have tried to make a very short review of the facts in one paragraph and a brief summary of the law in another paragraph. Necessarily, this cannot cover the entire case, as it has not been intended as a complete digest, but rather as a brief synopsis.

During the year we have not received any suggestions from the members of the Bar in regard to improvement of our method of digesting, and we would be very happy to receive such suggestions.

We trust that this department has been of beneficial interest to members of the Bar.

Respectfully submitted:

C. CLYDE BARKER, Chairman.
